Dear Monica and Daniela,

I am writing to offer my warmest congratulations to everyone at Blessed Dominic Catholic Primary School on the recent Ofsted inspection and the richly deserved recognition of your achievements.

The report paints a picture of a deeply caring, aspirational, and high-performing school where pupils flourish both academically and personally. Your school values of love, learn, believe are not only embedded in lessons but reflected in the exceptional behaviour, compassion, and ambition of your pupils. It is evident that children at Blessed Dominic truly love coming to school — a testament to the culture of respect, warmth, and high expectations you have established.

The strength of relationships between staff and pupils is particularly striking. The care and support pupils receive, alongside the high standards set for behaviour and learning, ensure that every child is known, nurtured, and challenged. The result is a school community where pupils feel safe, behave impeccably, and are proud of the positive choices they make.

The excellence of provision in the early years, where children are so well prepared for their next steps, reflects a commitment to getting learning right from the very start. Similarly, the inclusive approach to supporting pupils with SEND ensures that every learner is both valued and successful.

The school's work to develop pupils' character, resilience, and understanding of equality and diversity is both impressive and inspiring. Leadership roles such as eco-ambassadors, a rich programme of extra-curricular opportunities, and thoughtful teaching about modern Britain all contribute to a broad and balanced education that prepares pupils not only for secondary school, but for life.

It is also encouraging to note the strong and effective partnership between leaders, governors, and staff — as well as the school's dedication to staff wellbeing and workload. This united commitment to high standards and continuous improvement undoubtedly underpins the school's ongoing success.

Please accept my sincere congratulations on this excellent report and thank you for the dedication and care that make Blessed Dominic such a special place for children to learn and grow. I wish you all the very best as you continue to build on this success.

Yours sincerely,
